A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on October 26, 2004 has been entered.

It is noted that in claim 9, line 2, "on the surface the ceramic carrier" is ungrammatical. It appears that – on the surface of the ceramic carrier – was intended.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 2,4,6-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 2, "the pores capable of directly supporting the catalyst component" lack(s) proper antecedent basis in the claim(s).

In claim 2, "selected from among a group consisting of" is indefinite as it is improper Markush language.

In claim 4, "the pores capable of directly supporting the catalyst component" lack(s) proper antecedent basis in the claim(s).

In claim 6, "the substrate ceramic" lack(s) proper antecedent basis in the claim(s). It appears that – ceramic substrate – was intended.

In claim 7, "selected from among a group consisting of" is indefinite as it is improper Markush language.

In claim 8, "the catalyst ion" lack(s) proper antecedent basis in the claim(s).

In claim 9, "the surface the ceramic carrier" lack(s) proper antecedent basis in the claim(s). It appears that – the surface of the ceramic substrate – was intended.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over WO99/19060 or Naito '835. Naito '835 is an English equivalent to WO '060.

WO '060 and Naito each suggest cordierite having a multitude of pores or elements that support a catalyst component containing noble metals that have NOX absorbent capacity. See col. 4 and cols. 9,10 of Naito.

They may differ in that they do not state that the catalyst component is supported directly on the surface of the cordierite however Figs. 1 and 9 of Naito each show same.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
